

Billing Software for Advocates & Law Firms

Record billables with voice and review legal invoices automatically with machine learning. View your law firm's billing statistics, including lawyer performance.

What is Bilr?

Bilr is a legal billing software created for the modern lawyer and law firm, providing an easy means of time tracking and e-billing (incl. LEDES) while in the office or on the go. Record billables with your voice, whether you're in the car, the court house, or at home. Activate in-app billing timers to accurately track your time, ensuring that every billable is captured and invoiced.

Remove the stress of manual invoice review with our AI/ML, analyzing invoices against your clients' SLAs or billing guidelines, flagging errors for correction. With Bilr, you'll no longer have to spend hours looking through your firm's billing before submission to clients. You'll also no longer have to worry about getting invoices sent back from clients with the invoice total reduced and line items removed, typically causing a delay in getting paid and an average revenue loss of 6-11% per invoice. Bilr's AI/ML helps ensure compliance to clients' billing guidelines for each and every invoice. Cleaner and more accurate invoices means improving accounts receivable.

We've got a history of having generated over $1.2 billion dollars in value for our clients over a 15+ year period, servicing Fortune 500 companies such as Coca-Cola, Nike, IBM and beyond with e-billing software for their law firms. Over 40,000 law firms have interacted with our legal technology, including the biggest names on the Am Law 100 and Law 500 lists.

Bilr makes billing your clients easier than ever!

There's no reason why time tracking and billing should be a dreaded end of month chore, or even something you end up arguing with clients over. Due to the aforementioned 15+ years in the LegalTech space, helping clients with unique and diverse requirements, we are intimately familiar with law firms' billing pain points, as well as with the recurring day-to-day manual tasks that are eating up law firms' time and revenues.

As a cloud-based legal billing software, Bilr provides business process automation through the use of machine learning, natural language processing and powerful data analytics, delivering revenue protection and higher profit margins for law firms. In fact, with the average law firm that uses Bilr, we are able to improve bottom line profit margins by over 30%, based on an average revenue loss per invoice of 8% attributed to guideline non-compliance.

These revenue losses can be sourced to simple billing mistakes and inaccurate time tracking, most of which is flagged during the client-side bill review process and stricken out of the invoice total. Looking beyond that, large and small law firms alike are also losing revenues on inefficient time tracking practices. Examples of this include forgetting to track billable hours, or even having the process of recording time be laborious to the point of billable hours getting lost. Bilr seeks to change this with powerful yet easy-to-use legal billing software, offering a modern alternative with pricing and features that beats out competition.

Bilr uses data from over 40,000 global law firms as well as professional services suppliers to ensure you are utilizing best practices within your law firm's billing process, representing one of the world's largest legal invoice databases. With our legal billing software, your law practice will achieve absolute billing guideline compliance, transparency within law firm billing statistics and lawyer performance, and the opportunity to increase revenues and efficiency through automating away outdated manual tasks.

We'll be there every step of the way to support your growth, with 24/7 global customer service and custom solutions available to suit your specific law practice's requirements. This includes custom integrations built to support your law firm's workflow or in-house legal technology stack.

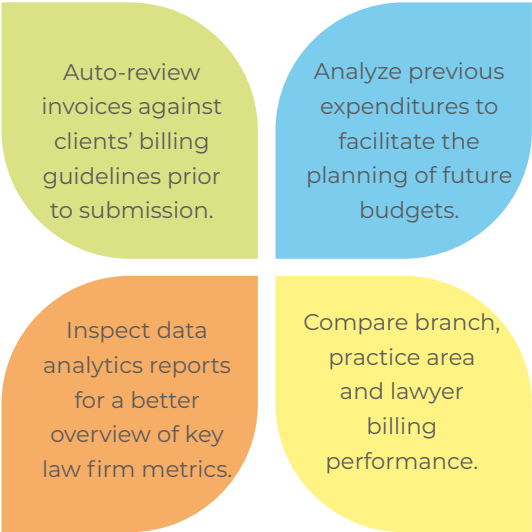

What’s the “secret sauce” for profitable and efficient e-billing?

We believe billing should be simple and able to be done quickly. Bilr takes this belief and brings it to life, enabling users to record time on both mobile and desktop with voice and text. This is all done while protecting your revenues and margins with our built in automatic invoice review, using machine learning to detect and flag invoice errors that are likely to be picked up during your in-house review, or your clients’, giving you the ability to clean these invoices before submitting them and ensuring billing guideline compliance.

Lawyers and law firms that use Bilr will be more profitable than those that don’t, period.

Fact: Bilr increases billing revenues by 6-11%.

With our legal billing software, time tracking will become easier and more profitable. Bilr takes the billing and invoice review off your shoulders with a number of cutting-edge features that were built out with the sole purpose in mind of easing the day-to-day of lawyers globally.
